Description of the Business -

This site is a group based chat room / message board site. This site gives the user a way to quickly send messages as well as photo and video posts to other users. The potential users of this site would be people looking for an alternative to other group based messaging sites like Facebook messenger and Discord as well as image and video posting oriented sites like Reddit and Tumblr.

Feature/Content Explanations -

This site plans to include features like account and profile creation where once a profile is created a user can choose to join groups based upon their various interests as well as create their own groups for other users to join in turn. In these various groups users will have a chatroom to converse with other users in the group as well as a group image / video board where users can upload content and others can comment on the various posts made.
